1. Aims

- 1.1. This document aims to describe the processes to be followed during the development of a Programme, including its approval. It includes specific guidance for the introduction of new HND programmes to the College's provision, for which responsibilities for programme design and development are shared with Pearson, as well as any programmes which are awarded by LCC
- 1.2. All programmes delivered by LCC – whether awarded by Pearson or other accrediting bodies – shall be benchmarked to the relevant national qualifications framework and relevant Subject Benchmark Statements in order to gain approval.

2. Policy

- 2.1. In line with its strategy and mission, London Churchill College (LCC) offers a select number of Programmes to meet the requirements of the community and that are designed to maximise employability.
- 2.2. LCC aims to maintain a relevant set of Programmes, which appeal to the interests of its student body and produce graduates equipped with qualifications and experience to compete in their chosen sector.
- 2.3. For Pearson provision, internal processes for programme design exist to complement those of Pearson without duplicating work and that ensure programme content (including pathway selection) and assessment processes are determined carefully to suit LCC's student body and to give it the best opportunity to demonstrate its abilities.
- 2.4. For validated programmes, arrangements are in place to allow for input and support from staff and students. Externals, such as external examiners, employers and practitioners, are included to ensure Programmes provide students with knowledge and experience that is relevant within their chosen sector.
- 2.5. LCC will seek the approval of Academic Board for all new programmes.
- 2.6. Following approval, programmes are subject to monitoring and review. This can help to identify where modifications could be made to enhance a programme. The Programme Modification Policy distinguishes between Major and Minor modifications. In the event of a Major Modification, the College reconsiders the whole programme through the Programme Design and Development Policy.

3. Procedure

3.1. Strategic Plan Discussion and PEG Agreement

- 3.1.1. The process to develop and approve the Programme commences following discussion and agreement at the Principal's Executive Group (PEG). The Programme Leader should bring proposals for new Programmes to the attention of the Chair of the PEG. The PEG will decide how the introduction of the Programme fits in with the institutional Strategic Plan.

3.2. Programme Development Team

- 3.2.1. Any LCC stakeholder can propose a new programme and submit it to the Head of Programmes and Academic Monitoring for formal submission to the PEG.
- 3.2.2. A Programme Leader designate, and development team will be formed that will then take on the responsibility of taking the Programme through the formal steps of the procedure through the completion of the Programme Development Form. If required, the team will include members of the Awarding Body.
- 3.2.3. It will report regularly to PEG and Academic Board, providing them with a Draft Programme Development Form for comment.
- 3.2.4. The Development team will be led by the Programme Leader designate with Module Leaders, Tutors and Support Staff present and further supported by PEG members providing management oversight. The team will consult employers, student representatives, relevant external advisors and the Head of Student Engagement in the development stages. Their primary function is to continuously add value to the Programme.
- 3.2.5. The team will ensure that the following documentation will comprise:
 - 3.2.2.1. Rationale and Market justification
 - 3.2.2.2. Modules; Learning Outcomes and Reading Lists
 - 3.2.2.3. Mapping against the QAA Subject Benchmark Statement (as relevant)
 - 3.2.2.4. Entry criteria
 - 3.2.2.5. Resource Strategy, ensuring that the College has sufficient and appropriate facilities and learning resources to deliver the Programme.
 - 3.2.2.6. Staff CV's, and a plan for the recruitment of any additional members of staff that may be required.
 - 3.2.2.7. Programme model for delivery
 - 3.2.2.8. Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
 - 3.2.2.9. Assessment framework, Grading criteria and weighting
 - 3.2.2.10. Evidence of employer consultation
 - 3.2.2.11. Propose staff training for implementing the quality assurance of the Programme delivery
 - 3.2.2.12. Evidence of student consultation

3.3. Internal Approval Panel Event

- 3.3.1. The Registrar will organise an Internal Approval Panel Event in consultation with the PEG or a representative of an Awarding Body (if required) and ensure that documentation of the Programme Proposal is received by the panel at least three weeks before the event.
- 3.3.2. The Approval Panel will be chaired by a member of the PEG. It will include Student Representatives and Externals and their input should also be recorded through the Programme Development Form.
- 3.3.3. All Programmes are tested against a pre-determined set of criteria to determine if the Programme can go forward to the approval stage. New

Programmes, as well as current ones, are expected to meet the following essential requirements:

- 3.3.2.1. Market demand for the Programme
- 3.3.2.2. Possible progression routes must be taken into account and the Programme aligned to suit these. For example, a Level 5 Programme should qualify the student for a Level 6 in a similar subject.
- 3.3.2.3. Demand in the job sector for graduates of the Programme.
- 3.3.2.4. It operates within the College's overall strategy and mission
- 3.3.2.5. The college has (or can obtain) the resources to deliver the Programme and to provide all necessary support to the students.

3.4. Approval

- 3.4.1. Sign-off from Academic Board will be sought once all other stages of the development have been completed and conditions met to the satisfaction of the panel. This should include evidence demonstrating how the Programme has met the scrutiny criteria, including evidence of input from externals and students.
- 3.4.2. Where the programme is awarded by Pearson, or another validating body, the documents approved at the Internal Approval Panel Event will be forwarded to the awarding body.

4. Monitoring and Enhancement

- 4.1.1. The Programme Design and Development Policy is approved by Academic Board and reviewed at least every two years or whenever significant changes occur within awarding body regulations and regulatory frameworks, taking any Programmes that were approved or proposed into account.
- 4.1.2. LCC will assess the effectiveness of its practices to identify areas of good practice and determine areas for improvement or enhancement.
